2006 Professional Development Day Building Bridges for Project Success

PMI Honolulu Chapter presents 2006 Professional Development Day

May 3, 2006 8:00 AM – 4:30 PM

Neil S. Blaisdell Center

Keynote Speaker – Honolulu Mayor Mufi Hannemann

The PMI-Honolulu Chapter is offering to its members at a special discounted rate, a value-packed Professional Development Day featuring speakers from across the U.S. and local leaders. This day-long conference, themed "Building Bridges for Project Success" - is filled with opportunities to access project management techniques across industries, topics and states, networking with other project managers, and earning PDU credits - all with the convenience of a central Honolulu location at a great price!

Hear about landmark Honolulu projects from Mayor Mufi Hannemann; learn more about OPM3 from Walter Viali, Business Process Modeling from Elizabeth & Richard Larsen, How to Implement Earned Value Management Simply and Easily from Ray Stratton or Consulting Skills for PMs from Glenn Briskin as part of nine breakout sessions; discover the State Government benchmark in project management from Oregon's key drivers, and network with experts and other associates in the Project Management field.

PMI members registering before March 17 will be entered into a drawing for a certificate for a free PMI monthly luncheon meeting. The PMI member who refers the most registrants (does not have to be as a group) will win a certificate for a free PMI monthly luncheon meeting – just be sure that your friends and colleagues put your name in the Referred By field on the registration form.

The PMI Honolulu Chapter offers three convenient ways to register! Take advantage of the EARLY REGISTRATION RATES now! Online registration coming soon – visit our chapter website at: www.pmi-honoluluchapter.org for more information.

Deadline to register at the early registration rate is April 7, 2006. Attendees are encouraged to register as early as possible to take advantage of the lower registration fees. Seating is limited. Registrations will be taken on a first come basis up to the maximum seating for the plenary session. Registration for the conference does not ensure a seat for any specific breakout session. Seating for the individual breakout sessions is also on a first come basis.

Chapter Board Holds Strategic Planning Session

On January 28 your board of directors met for a special strategic planning session recognizing that the chapter has grown significantly in the past years and that a longer view to planning is an important part of the leadership responsibility. The areas of discussion included consideration of the Vision, Mission, Goals, Objectives, Stakeholders and Opportunities.

The vision that came from the session is for the chapter to be recognized as the organization of choice for project management professionalism in Hawaii. The related mission, then, is to promote the principles of the Project Management Institute through networking, sharing of project experiences, training, education, and project management certification in the State of Hawaii.

Goals and objectives were defined as key in carrying out the vision and mission. The stakeholders are those who are involved in or affected by actions and activities of the chapter, and the opportunities are areas where the chapter can achieve its goals and objectives with a positive effect on the stakeholders.

As we move forward through the year, in budgeting and planning, watch for actions that reflect the restated vision and mission, in support of the chapter and its activities in the state.

Announcing the launch of OPM3B. ProductSuite. The inaugural training class for certification as a PMI Certified OPM3 Assessor or Consultant is being conducted in Denver the week of April 3, 2006. Anyone interested in learning more about OPM3 ProductSuite or the inaugural training session in Denver should contact Larry Bull at Larry.Bull@pmi.org or access the OPM3 ProductSuite website at www.opm3productsuite.com

Revised certification requirement handbooks are now available.

Revised Certified Associate in Project Management (CAPM®) and Project Management Professional (PMP®) handbooks are now available in the Certification Program section of the PMI Web site.

Revised PMI Code of Professional Conduct Exposure Draft is available online for your review and comment.

The Ethics Standard Development Committee (ESDC) invites PMI members and nonmembers to comment on the exposure draft of the revised PMI Code of Professional Conduct from now until Friday, 10 March 2006. The revised PMI Code of Professional Conduct will replace with a single code both the PMI member code of ethics and the Project Management Professional (PMP®) code of ethics.

The PMI Code of Professional Conduct was developed based on substantive input from hundreds of PMI members and stakeholders in two global surveys and eight focus group interviews, and from best practice insights collected from 24 professional organizations. The revision is being managed per the American National Standards Institute (ANSI) standard process, which was followed during the recent revision to the PMBOK® Guide.

All comments will be adjudicated by the Ethics Standard Development Committee. A personal response will be sent to the author of every comment. Please view the online exposure draft, and comment — and encourage component members to comment — by 10 March.

PMI Global Congress 2006—Latin America will be held in Santiago, Chile.

PMI is pleased to announce that Santiago, Chile, will be the location of PMI Global Congress 2006—Latin America, to be held 6–8 November 2006 at the Grand Hyatt Santiago. The congress will feature networking events, an exhibit hall filled with information for all attendees and as many as 52 presentations within 12 areas of focus.

The call for presentation proposals to speak at the congress will open at 24.00 GMT on Sunday, 12 February, and close at 24.00 GMT on Sunday, 9 April. Submissions may be entered in Spanish, Portuguese or English. All individuals who wish to submit presentations must review the submission information Web pages as several requirements have changed. (congressspeakers@pmi.org)

Call for nominations for 2007 PMI Certification Governance Council

PMI seeks leaders in project management for nomination to the 2007 PMI Certification Governance Council (CGC). Perhaps you, or someone you know, are interested in this exceptional leadership opportunity. The nomination period is open until midnight (EST), Friday, 24 March 2006.

The Certification Governance Council is a chartered committee of PMI's Board of Directors. Council members lead and govern some of the Institute's most vital certification functions in support of the Project Management Professional (PMP®) and Certified Associate in Project Management (CAPM®) credentials and examinations, and supervise the nomination and selection of CGC members. Service on the council affords exceptional opportunities to guide and influence the future of PMI and its globally recognized credentials.

The council is comprised of five PMI members who hold the PMP credential, one PMI member who holds the CAPM credential and one non-credentialed individual who is not a PMI member and who represents consumers of the services that those who hold the PMP credential provide to their clients and employers. Terms on the council are for three years. Council members elect a Chair, Vice Chair and Secretary.

The CGC consists of subgroups with the following areas of responsibility:

- The Nominating Subcommittee oversees the nominating process for members of the CGC and its related committees.
- The Certification Disciplinary Subcommittee participates in the PMI certification disciplinary process. It ensures that proper procedures are followed to determine accuracy of alleged violations.
- The PMP Credential Committee and the CAPM Credential Committee oversee and implement strategic direction respectively for the PMP and CAPM credential and examination.

View the CGC charter online. For a copy of other charters, which identify roles, responsibilities and deliverables for the subgroups, please contact Dawn Parker.

Positions available include:

- One certified PMP for the CGC
- One certified PMP for the PMP Credential Committee
- One certified CAPM for the CAPM Credential Committee
- Two to three certified PMPs for the Nominating Subcommittee

NOTE: Members of the CGC cannot plan, conduct, organize, deliver or receive personal compensation for the development of PMI credential examination preparation courses or programs.

If you would like to serve on the PMI Certification Governance Council, please apply by Friday, 24 March, through PMI's Volunteer Opportunities Web page. If you know of a qualified colleague who may be interested, please refer them to the site. If you need additional information, please contact Dawn Parker.

Enjoy the professional advantages of being a
